...Bangkok offers visitors the opportunity to experience fascinating glimpses of Thailand's gentle culture amidst the bustle of a great and dynamic metropolis.

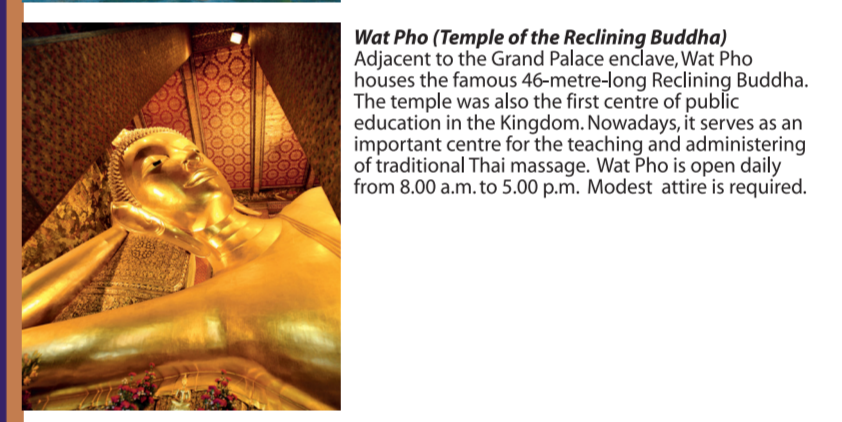

The Grand Palace & Wat Phra Kaew (The Temple of the Emerald Buddha)
The Grand Palace and Wat Phra Kaew, where the highly-revered Emerald Buddha is housed is a treasure trove of Thai arts. The complex also features the Royal Thai Decorations and Coin Pavilion, where a permanent exhibition of royal regalia, decorations, medals and coins dating back to early 11th century is on display. The complex is open daily from 8.30 a.m. to 3.30 p.m. except on special days designated for royal ceremonies. The admission fee is 500 baht. Visitors are advised that polite and modest dress is essential.

Wat Benchamabophit (The Marble Temple)
Constructed during the reign of King Rama V this unique marble temple is a traditional Thai architecture with European influences which are evident in the use of Carrara marble and stained glass. The temple is open daily from 8.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

Wat Arun (The Temple of Dawn)
This famous Bangkok landmark is on the Thon Buri side of the Chao Phraya River, directly opposite the Grand Palace complex and easily accessible by boat from the Bangkok side. The temple dates back to the Ayutthaya period. The temple was enlarged by King Rama I and King Rama III. Renovations were completed in the reign of King Rama II. The Emerald Buddha was enshrined in this temple for a brief period before King Rama I built the Grand Palace and Wat Phra Kaew on the Bangkok side.

Wat Pho (Temple of the Reclining Buddha)
Adjacent to the Grand Palace enclave, Wat Pho houses the famous 46-metre-long Reclining Buddha. The temple was also the first centre of public education in the Kingdom. Nowadays, it serves as an important centre for teaching and administering of traditional Thai massage. Wat Pho is open daily from 8.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m. Modest attire is required.

Royal Barges National Museum
Located on Khlong Bangkok Noi off the Chao Phraya River and not far from the Phra Pinkao Bridge, this shed has a display of several ornate ceremonial royal barges with unique designs and decorative details. These barges are used on royal and official occasions and formerly served as war vessels. The most beautiful and well-known barge 'Suphannahong' is used by the king only when he makes his royal river procession for the Kathin Ceremony, a Buddhist tradition of offering robes to monks. The shed is open to the public everyday from 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

Phra Sumera Fortress
Located on the corner where Phra Athit Road and Phra Sumera Road meet, this fortress was constructed in the reign of King Rama I in 1783 along with 14 other fortresses and battlements surrounding the capital. Its shape is an octagonal one with three levels. Inside the walls, there are steps leading up to the fortress. Nowadays, there is a small park surrounding the fortress. Visitors can enjoy a pleasant walk along the Chao Phraya River all the way to Phra Pinkao Bridge.

The Giant Swing
This red swing outside Wat Suthat was once used in Brahminic ceremonies to honour the highest God Shiva.

Suan Pakkad Palace Museum
Located near the Bangkok Bus Terminal (Mo Chit III), this enormous weekend market, hugely popular with local and foreign shoppers is open weekend from dawn to dusk approximately 7.00 a.m. to 6.00 p.m. Chatuchak Weekend Market is a Bangkok landmark where visitors can buy just about everything from all over Thailand, ranging from clothing to pets and everything in between, a paradise for browsers and bargain-hunters. It is also where professional and amateur art lovers and artist meet.
